

OUR REGION

Mahurangi College is situated on the Matakana Coast in the wider Auckland area, in one of New Zealand's most beautiful coastal, semi-rural regions.

The township of Warkworth is at the heart of the community and is surrounded by farms, vibrant villages and beach communities. Residents either work in Warkworth, commute to Auckland or work in their own businesses.

The region offers idyllic coastal views and exotic white sandy beaches where you can surf, snorkel, sail, dive, swim, kayak and paddleboard. Enjoy stunning walking tracks around the area and cycle trails or take the metro bus service right into the heart of the city.

The area has many cultural amenities. There is a movie theatre complex, great cafes, art galleries, local markets and live music.

OUR SCHOOL

Mahurangi College has around 1500 students from Year 7 to 13 (ages 11 to 18) and is set in park-like grounds, bordered by the Mahurangi River. We have excellent facilities, resources and technology, as you would expect with a growing, prosperous school.

Our school is lucky to have the subject choices and opportunities of a large city school but is situated in a safe and secure community where people know each other.

At Mahurangi College, we emphasise academic excellence balanced with a wide range of sports, cultural and outdoor activities.

Our location, in such a beautiful coastal region, means there are many exciting outdoor education options for you to experience.

We also run an extensive school tours programme for international students, giving you the option to explore what the rest of New Zealand has to offer.

We welcome international students to come and share in our very special way of life.

"I loved my host family who made me feel like part of their family. There were lots of subjects to choose from and the school organised tours were awesome." - Moritz, Germany
